

Kent Smith received his B.Mus. from Queen's Univ. in 1979 and spent the next 17 years teaching band in the Prairies. He is a low brass player and also does great arrangements for Partita and other groups. Kent performs in a variety of bands, jazz and small ensembles in Kingston and during the summer conducts the LaSalle Adult Band.

Stan Segel received his music degree from Queens University in 1995. He plays in a number of community ensembles both professional and amateur. Some of these include Frontenac Band, Dixie 6+1, Soft Winds, Partita Trio, and the newly formed Orchestra Kingston.

Sue Moore received her Diploma of Teaching in 1984 from the University of Technology Sydney Australia. After completing the Associate in Music Performance and a B.Mus in Theory and Composition at the University of Western Ontario, studying clarinet with Robert Riseling, she has played in a number of professional and amateur groups including 1st Clarinet in Orchestra Kingston and the Garrison Band. Sue has taught both privately and in schools for 26 years.

